H NEVER CONFORM H

[affinity groups]

at s11 protesters will be divided into affinity groups. an affinity group is a group of people who will organise alongside other groups to be part of a wider action. affinity groups allow us to have control over the type of action that we do and prevent the feeling of just being one of the masses. sydney activists are now begining to form themselves into affinity groups. these are formed around the type of action that people want to participate in and/or people that trust each other and are confident of each other's capacity to work together.

on these three days the world economic forum [wef] will attempt to meet at melbourne's crown casino. activists from around australia will converge on melbourne in order to shut these talks down.

the wef is an exclusive, un-elected, international organisation composed of the world's 1000 largest trans-national corporations. it is dedicated to "managing" the global economy in such a way as to benefit multinational corporations. this means that labour standards, enviornmental protection policies, land treaties with indigenous people are all dropped in order to make countries more "attractive for investment" - more "attractive" for companies to make their profits from. the wef plays an important role in shaping the way that governments shape policy and a key role in creating strategies for corporations and countries to maximise their economic "potentials".
